Dear Chief Ron H. Clark,

So far, this year's number of dogs shot by law enforcement officers nationwide totals 346. This represents an average of 49 dogs shot per month. Six of these incidents involved Idaho law enforcement officers who were from Boise, Coeur d'Alene, Filer and Nampa Police Departments. In three of those incidents, legal proceedings against the respective departments were initiated or settlements reached.

As residents of your policing jurisdictions, we share your concern for your officers' safety, but we are even more so concerned for the safety of the residents. In the Boise incident, 4 stray bullets hit unintended targets. The Filer shooting happened just outside of a 9 year old boy's bedroom. In Coeur d'Alene, an officer shot into a parked vehicle. In Wichita, Kansas, a 10 year old boy was struck in the knee and a second bullet struck a residence when the officer attempted to shoot a dog, and officers from Clifton, New Jersey and Riverside, California shot themselves while trying to shoot at dogs.

We are aware that a lot goes through an officer's mind when called out for an incident, and that not all such shootings should be condemned. However, we are also convinced by local testimonials published after the recent Defensive Tactics: Canine Encounters training in Filer, and by news coverage of the Louisiana Governor's Animal Welfare Commission (LAWC) regarding this course, that many of these firearms discharges could be avoided with proper, practical training in understanding dog behavior and the use of "soft technique" alternative methods to defend against dogs perceived to be aggressing an officer.

On October 30th, the Ada County Sheriff's Department will be hosting Jim Osorio's Defensive Tactics: Canine Encounters training. This training was previously scheduled for July 10th, but had to be rescheduled because of insufficient registration numbers.

For the safety of our communities and our law enforcement officers, we respectfully request that your agency takes a pro-active stance and affords its officers the opportunity to partake in this nationally renowned and much needed training course. This letter has been sent to all Idaho law enforcement agencies. We ask that you kindly provide a brief response acknowledging your receipt of this correspondence.

Sincerely,

Edith Williams for,

ABOUT THE TRAINER - JIM OSORIO

Jim is regarded as one of the foremost experts in the country today in canine encounters and less lethal technology towards animals. With over 33 years in Public Safety, he has trained officers throughout the United States at the Local, State and Federal levels of Law Enforcement, Animal Control, Firefighters and EMS personnel.

Jim has worked in the field of Public Safety for several years; he has held titles such as Certified Animal Control Officer, Certified Animal Cruelty Investigator, Deputy Marshall, Emergency Medical Technician, Firefighter, Inspector, Investigator, Police Dispatcher and Special Deputy Sheriff.

Jim has written several articles and a book, How to Prosecute Animal Cruelty. He has also been called in as an Expert Witness for various cities, county, state and federal government agencies. He has received several recognitions from various agencies in his assistance for helping animals in their time of need; such incidents were during the September 11, 2001 attacks of the World Trade Center in New York City, Florida Hurricanes in 2004 and Hurricane Katrina in 2005.

Jim served in the United States Army, receiving his Honorable Discharge in 1986. In 2000 he received a Certificate of Recognition from the Secretary of Defense William S. Cohen for his service during the period of the Cold War (2 September 1945 – 26 December 1991) in promoting peace and stability for the United States. Jim also is a member of the National Disaster Animal Response Team, National Illegal Animal Fighting Task Force and the National Dangerous Animal Task Force – Region 6.

His training methods have been accredited by numerous law enforcement agencies across the United States. Fort Worth Police Department, TX, Atlanta Police Department, GA, East Baton Rouge Sheriff's Office, LA, Leander Police Department, TX and the Austin Police Department, TX have rated his training methods number #1 for all law enforcement officers across the United States.

DEFENSIVE TACTICS: CANINE ENCOUNTERS

COURSE OUTLINE

OVERVIEW:

This training is intended to offer officers who come across dogs on their daily duties a better perceptiveness on their canine encounters. In this training officers will leave with an improved understanding on how to prevent an attacking dog, making a stand, OC Spray effects, Taser's, taking a bite if needed, and much more. Officers should also be capable of overcoming their fear of dogs. Keep in mind; a dog can be controlled. But, if you panic and try to turn and run in an effort to evade a dog, they will and can run you down.

When officers complete this training, they will receive a certificate and the skills that will give them an advantage in their department over other officers. No specific knowledge of dogs is required for this training, but we find that it helps if they have some form of dog-related knowledge so that officers can have a better understanding.

COURSE OUTLINE / AGENDA:

TERMINAL LEARNING OBJECTIVES: Given officers to be trained and instruct officers in Defensive Tactics: Canine Encounters. This is an 8-Hour training course. Certificates issued at the end of the course.

CELET Canine Encounters Law Enforcement Training HOSTING TRAINING REQUEST INFORMATION

Thank you for your curiosity in hosting CELET training with your agency.

Our goal is to have a minimum of 25 students in our training courses. For hosting CELET training at your facility your agency will receive three (3) free seats. Therefore, we ask that you assist us with recruiting students by promoting it to officers within your region.

WHAT WE REQUIRE OF A HOSTING AGENCY

Provide Training Course Location

All we need from you is a classroom type environment and some assistance in getting the information out. CELET coordinates all training participant enrollments from our office in Arlington, Texas. Therefore, we would not expect you to collect any fees for enrollment. However, we would require a point of contact at the training course location, to which we can refer attendees for location information. Prior to setting up the training you will be asked to provide CELET with a course location, address, point of contact, point of contact phone and email and a list of suggested area hotels. CELET will create a training announcement, post this information to our website and send you all the materials you would need to support the training course.

At the time of the training course we ask that you could provide the following:

- A classroom large enough to hold all participants.
- LCD Projector / Power Point Equipment.

Generate Course Attendance

As a hosting agency, we ask that you help us generate class attendance by contacting agencies within your area. When doing so, keep in mind that participants are usually willing to drive several hours to attend our training course. Contact could usually be made by telephone, email, mail, teletype or fax. We usually suggest you contact the agencies within your region.

What CELET Will Provide The Hosting Agency

Information, Instructor, Student Manuals and Materials

Once we have set a training date, CELET will provide you with a training announcement flyer containing the necessary training course information. Our Training Division will coordinate with one of our Instructors to teach the training course. Prior to the course the Training Division or one of our Instructors will contact you to make all the necessary arrangements. CELET will provide all course equipment and materials.

Training Course Registration

CELET coordinates all training participant enrollments from our office in Arlington, Texas. CELET will post all course dates and locations on our website and also PoliceTraining.net as soon as the date is set. Please direct all registrants to the CELET website at www.celet.us. Through the website, we have registration forms to assist in the registration process. Registrations can also be obtained through our Training Division via email at info@canineencounters.com or by calling the Training Division at (817) 290-2121.
